

2025 270cc Fall Brawl Format

Time Trials held on Friday, October 3rd, 2025

- Order / Groups determined by pill draw (NO automated draw).
- 2 cars at a time. When the lead car is at the base of the ramp the second car will be pushed. There will be one white flag lap for heat in the engine before going green.
- Any driver who misses their time trial slot gets one lap for time at the end of time trials.
- ALL cars must scale after their time trial session. Minimum weight 600 lbs.
- YOU MUST ATTEMPT TO QUALIFY ON FRIDAY! Meaning, your car needs to hit the track surface on Friday night. If for some reason you break in hot laps and do not make time trials, you will be the last car in the time trial list and put tail of the last heat per car count. If you do not make your time trial slot or the one lap at the end of time trials, you will also be placed in the last position of the last heat per the car count.

Provisionals

- The 2025 King of the Ring series winner (Patrick Kelly) is a guaranteed starter in Saturday's A-Main. The driver does not have to attempt to qualify. If the driver does not qualify as normal and takes the provisional, the driver will start in the first non-qualifying position after the heats. The A-Main will then start with 27 cars. If driver qualifies as normal, the race will only start 26 cars.
- The Track Points Provisional (TBD) is a guaranteed starter in Saturday's A-Main. The driver does not have to attempt to qualify. If driver does not qualify, driver will start 27th or 28th in the A-Main. If driver qualifies, the race will only start 26 or 27 cars. NOTE: If the points leader qualifies into the show, the provisional spot is moved down the ladder to the first non-qualified points runner.*
